

Armor SecureCon – 2019 User Conference

Terms and Conditions

Updated: 05/28/19

Your Attendance. SecureCon is an invite-only event exclusive to Armor’s current clients, partners, and prospects who are under confidentiality agreements. Armor reserves the right to decline any registration that does not meet the requirements listed above.

Your Privacy. All information you provide, or that we collect, in connection with the Armor Defense Inc. (“Armor”) SecureCon – 2019 User Conference (the “Event”) will be saved, stored, processed, transmitted and/or deleted in accordance with the Armor Privacy Policy, which you can view here: <https://www.armor.com/privacy-policy/>.

Consent to Email. By registering for and attending the Event, you agree to be contacted by Armor via phone or email with Event-related information or updates.

Valid Email Required. You will be asked to provide a valid company email address in order to register for the Event. If you do not provide such email address, your Event registration may not be processed.

Schedule Changes. Armor reserves the right to modify event details as we see fit. We will make efforts to keep the registration site current for your convenience.

Photography / Video. We may take photographs and/or video during the Event, or have them taken for us, and collect recordings of your voice and likeness. By attending the Event you consent to Armor’s use of these recordings, without payment of any kind, for any purpose, which may include use in our marketing materials and publications, and for our internal business purposes.

No Liability. Armor will not accept liability for damages of any nature you may sustain during the Event, or for loss of or damage to your personal property.

Code of Conduct. Armor SecureCon is committed to creating an environment where everyone can participate without harassment, discrimination, or violence of any kind. All meeting participants must be treated with respect and consideration. Registration for the conference is considered an agreement to abide by this Code of Conduct.

Event Safety / Your Conduct. The safety and security of all Event attendees is very important to us. By attending, you agree to abide by: any Code of Conduct made available to you by Armor; all rules provided by any venue operating official conference events; and all applicable fire, safety, and health regulations. For the Safety of all attendees, Armor SecureCon is ‘weapons free’ and all conference participants, including staff, volunteers and attendees, are banned from possessing any object or substance intended to cause injury to others, including but not limited to firearms. If you act in violation of the foregoing rules or regulations or in an unsafe or careless manner at any time during the Event: (1) Armor may remove you from the Event without liability to you and you will not receive any full or partial refund; and (2) you agree to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Armor and its employees, officers, directors, and agents against all third-party claims, losses, or damages to persons or property, governmental charges or fines, and costs (including reasonable attorney’s fees) arising out of the conduct giving rise to such violation.

Subject to Change. These terms and conditions are subject to change at Armor’s discretion. Please check the Event website (www.armor.com/securecon) periodically to view the latest version.
